

Ben Edelstein

Law Clerk

bde@bartonlegalsc.com

Ben joined the firm in November 2018 and is a rising 2L at Marquette University Law School. He assists with all aspects of litigation, from inception through discovery and trial. Ben has substantive experience in all aspects of litigation support, having worked as a legal assistant and as a paralegal. He is skilled in drafting pre-trial documents, conducting legal research, and solving complex discovery issues.

Ben has a master's degree in political science from the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. His graduate coursework placed particular emphasis on judicial behavior and research methods. In addition to his studies and research, Ben helped teach courses on state politics, voting behavior, and data analysis as a teaching assistant. After graduate school, Ben worked as a data analytics consultant. Ben uses his background and skill set to provide clients with creative, data-driven solutions to complex legal problems.

Outside Interests

When he's not working or studying, Ben enjoys cooking, hiking, and spending time with his niece and nephew.